Explanation of Request

Purpose: CIS of Savannah is a non-profit organization, and strives to employ the full resources of the community around children, families, teachers and schools as a support system to help overcome the school dropout rates.

Why it is a good use of Taxpayer funds: Virtually all districts in America are populated by numbers of students for whom the traditional high school environment is not working. Alternative schools like the Corporate Academy become an added option for those students who may drop out of school without such intervention.
